THE AVENGERS OF BLOOD.

Terrible Sequel to the Ezell Tragedy—Bierfield, the Leader of the Negro Assassins, Meets with Retributive Justice—His Antecedents and How he Met his Death—Full and Correct Details of the Affair.

From the Nashville Banner.]

The reports which reached here last Sunday concerning the terrible tragedy at Franklin the night previous, created as much, if not more, excitement than the riot at that place some months since. All sorts of rumors were rife as to the origin and circumstances of the affair, but we found no one who was able to furnish us with details either consistent or satisfactory in their nature. In view of the unsettled state of the public mind and the probable effect that such an occurrence would be likely to have on what is generally termed the "peace movement," one of the editors of this paper visited Franklin yesterday for the purpose of subjecting the affair to a thorough investigation. The result of that investigation appears at length below. As, however, it but develops the sequel to preceding events equally as bloody as those we are about to relate, a brief retrospect will enable our readers to better comprehend the tragic story.

About five weeks ago the person of a little girl named Ezell, living seven miles west of Franklin, was brutally outraged by a negro. Immediately after hearing of the hellish deed the relations of the little girl set out to look for the villain, but failed in their efforts up to the 17th ult. Some citizens in the neighborhood of Boyd's mill, two or three miles from the point where the outrage was committed, learned that a boy answering the description of the one being searched for, was plowing in the corn field near the mill, went down to where he was, arrested him, and immediately proceeded toward Franklin with him, where he was committed to jail.

About midnight a party of men in disguise appeared at the jail and demanded the prisoner, who was, of course, given up by the jailer, but not until the latter was forced to do so. They then left, taking the negro with them. The next morning the lifeless body was found near Douglas' Church, six miles from town, on the Lewisburg Pike.

On the Saturday following the negroes of Franklin and vicinity, or a portion of them, made threats that they would burn the town when night came on, in retaliation for the transaction of the previous night. This reached the ears of the citizens, who at first were not disposed to pay attention to it. Finally, a part of the plot was divulged, which aroused every one. The news spread, and soon every one was in arms. About 11 o'clock several citizens from the country, having learned of the anticipated trouble, went to Franklin to see about it, and after remaining an hour or two, and seeing no indications of trouble, retired toward their homes. Among the party were three or four gentlemen who went in on the Carter's Creek Pike. These, together with Jeremiah Ezell, a brother of the young girl about whom the whole affair originated, a young man of seventeen or eighteen years of age, started to return home, and had reached opposite the gate of Mr. Bostick's lot, about one and a half miles from town, on the Carter's Creek Pike, when they were fired on from behind a stone fence by a party of negroes, who had concealed themselves there, and young Ezell received a ball through his body. The ball entered the back and came out through the bowels, creating a wound from which he died the next evening about 5 o'clock.

For some time all efforts to trace the identity of the parties who perpetrated this foul assassination proved futile. Several negroes were suspected, but it was not known that any white man had been concerned in it until a few days after young Ezell's death, when certain citizens of Franklin received letters from Nashville stating that the writers had been of the party and that they had acted at the instigation and under the orders of one Bierfield, a store keeper in Franklin. Last Thursday, however, the following letter, having the Nashville postmark on the envelope and addressed to "John Nolin, Franklin, Tennessee," was shown by the recipient to a citizen of the place, who at once saw the importance of its contents and retained it in his possession. We give the document entire:

It may be well imagined that this letter occasioned considerable excitement among those who were permitted to read it. How it fell into the hands of young Ezell's friends we did not ascertain, but that they were made aware of its contents, and to it must be attributed Bierfield's death, we can not for a moment doubt.

Bierfield had a small store filled with goods on Main street, adjoining Bostick's livery stable. About eleven o'clock Saturday night he returned home from the circus. A few moments afterwards some four or five unknown men knocked at his back door and demanded admittance. He refused to permit any one to enter. The persons outside threatened to break the door in. He replied that he would give them a ball if they did so. There were with him in the house at the time two negroes, one of whom assisted him as a clerk on Saturdays, when trade was generally brisk enough to demand the presence of two persons behind the counter. As the back door gave way to the repeated assaults of the squad on that side of the house, Bierfield rushed out of the front door, but was immediately seized by a party who were waiting for him in the street. His hands were then tied and he was carried up Indigo street about one hundred yards, but by a desperate effort he managed to break loose from his captors, and concealed himself in the hay loft of Bostick's livery stable. At the instant he released himself he tore the masks from the faces of two men who had hold of him. This, some think, sealed his fate. In the meantime the citizens had become aware of what was going on, as Bierfield could be heard for a distance of several blocks. Many remonstrated that such a proceeding was extremely culpable at so critical a period, and clamored for the law to take its course. A pistol shot was fired in the air by one of the squad, evidently as a signal, for some five mounted men immediately came down the street at a canter, and warned the citizens to leave on pain of being fired into. This of course caused a general stampede. Bierfield was then dragged away from the stable, notwithstanding his almost superhuman struggle to free himself, and at the mouth of Main street, where Indigo street crosses between Haines' and Briggs' grocery stores, he was shot and killed. Before his death he denied having had anything to do with the assassination of Ezell. His captors replied that their proof was positive. He then confessed to having instigated the murder, but swore that he was not present when the deed was committed. He offered the unknown avengers all the money he had about him ($125 in greenbacks and $25 in gold) if they would release him, and promised to leave the State within 24 hours. They answered that they did not wish to harm the negroes, that he alone was to blame, and would have to pay the penalty. Bierfield then said that he would make a full confession and reveal the names of all the guilty parties, but his doom was already sealed, and he fell pierced by five balls, two through the head, two through the chest, and one through the leg. The avengers of blood left him lying in the middle of Main street, and rode out of town by the Nashville pike. None of them showed their faces or spoke in a way that they could be recognized by any of the citizens. Just before the fatal shots were fired, Bierfield exclaimed that he was as good a Seymour and Blair man as any of them. He did not seem able to comprehend that neither politics nor nationality had anything to do with the terrible expiation which was to be required at his hands. The body was taken charge of by the citizens and an inquest held by Coroner Moss a short time after the tragedy. A verdict was returned yesterday that he had come to his death by pistol shots fired by unknown persons. His remains were brought to the city on Sunday and interred in the Hebrew cemetery.

But little is known of Bierfield's antecedents. He settled in Franklin about a year ago, was born in Russia, but had resided some years in Toronto, Canada. He was also at one time in business in this city, both on his own account and in the store of North & Ferris. When he first went to Franklin, he was employed by J. C. Bliss as a clerk, but subsequently established a store of his own. His trade was exclusively with negroes, and he persistently avoided the society of white men. He told Mr. Bliss, a Radical, last June, that he was determined to make a "fortune out of these troubles;" that a war of races was sure to come on, and he intended to make it pay him handsomely. The real cause of his deadly animosity against young Ezell has never been ascertained. It was, perhaps, part of a settled plan to foment hostile feelings between the two races.

While Bierfield was running toward Bostick's stable, after having broken loose from his captors, several shots were fired at him. Unfortunately one of the balls went through the body of a negro named Lawrence Bowman, from the effects of which he died at 10 o'clock last Sabbath morning.

Bowman and another negro were in Bierfield's house when it was first assaulted, but were told by their unwelcome visitors to keep quiet, as there was nothing against them. Neither of them were molested. Bowman was subsequently in the street watching the struggle between Bierfield and his captors. As Bierfield ran toward the stable, Bowman, who was between him and the unknown assailants, received one of the balls intended for the former. This was stated before the coroner's jury by Bowman's companion. The verdict of the jury was that his death was accidental.

The tragic death of Bierfield is not regarded at Franklin by men of either party in the light of a political event. Deceased, who was a Jew, never lost an opportunity of bitterly denouncing Grant for his infamous order against the Jews, and repeatedly announced his intention of voting for Seymour and Blair.

A very short time after the Ezell assassination Bierfield wrote a letter to the Press and Times, charging that Ezell's sister was a common strumpet, and that the "rape" never would have been heard of if she had not been "caught." He was often heard to denounce Mr. Mercer for not publishing these infamous slanders against an innocent and highly respectable young lady.

A BLOODY COLLISION.

A Sheriff and his Posse Attack a Party of Citizens near Waynesboro—Two of the Latter Killed, and One Mortally Wounded.

From the Nashville Banner.]

A tragic affair occurred near Waynesboro, Saturday, of which we have gleaned the following particulars from a gentleman from that neighborhood:

It appears that two companies of negroes, numbering about one hundred each, self-organized, and styling themselves Brownlow's militia, had been drilling near Waynesboro for some time past, and at night foraging upon, robbing and pillaging the country. The citizens had stood these outrages with a degree of patience hardly without a parallel, and until forbearance had ceased to be a virtue. They determined, however, to employ every peaceable means to get the desperadoes to disperse and return to some employment. About twelve persons accordingly went out from the town Saturday, and held a conference with the blacks, and were on their way back to the city, when they were met by the Sheriff of the county at the head of a few men. The Sheriff asked them if they were Ku-klux and what they had been doing, when a reply was made that it was none of his d—d business.

A quarrel ensued, and firing at once began. The Sheriff and posse fired first upon the citizens and hastily retreated to a stockade, in which the Sheriff had already secreted a considerable number of men. The twelve citizens went rushing after the Sheriff and posse, both sides exchanging shots. On arriving at the stockade, in which the Sheriff's men lay in ambush, a deadly volley was poured into the ranks of the citizens, two of whom fell dead and a third mortally wounded. The citizens finding they could not withstand the fire of their antagonists hastily retreated to the town. After the citizens had arrived in town it is said that a troop of citizens were gathered together, and they left immediately thereafter to surround the Sheriff and take him a prisoner. All the roads were picketed, and at last accounts preparations had been made for the worst. It is supposed that a bloody fight has taken place between the two contending parties. The boy who rides the mail from Waynesboro to Columbia, stated that he was delayed several hours by the pickets stationed along the road near the former town. It is also said that great excitement existed in Waynesboro.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

NEW YORK, August 19.—Early yesterday morning, officer Crittenden was assaulted by a gang of rowdies at the corner of Pierce and Mercer streets, and on his being reinforced, a sharp fight ensued. The policemen drove off their opponents, who were led by three members of the Allan family, into the St. Bernard House, where they opened fire again upon the officers. Between thirty and forty shots were exchanged between the parties, but no one is known to have been seriously injured. Wesley Allan and William Scott, two of the assassins, were carried off to the stationhouse and released on bail. During the day Allan took a solemn oath before leaving court that he would kill Crittenden.

PORTLAND, ME., August 19.—Through the efforts of Gov. Chamberlaine, $127,000 of the remaining unsettled claims of the State agents of the General Government have been allowed and paid. These claims were rejected at the previous settlement, but on re-examination, have been allowed.

PHILADELPHIA, August 19. — Last evening a party of roughs assaulted a German on the Water street wharf. An officer who went to his assistance was immediately unmercifully beaten and stabbed in the stomach, and had his nose bitten off. Another officer soon after came up and drew a revolver on the roughs. They attempted to take it from him, and in doing so, wrenched the barrel off the stock. The party then escaped. No arrests were made. The officer who was stabbed will probably die.

STATE FEMALE COLLEGE.

THE Fall Session of this Institution will commence on MONDAY, the 14th of September next, with a full and superior Faculty (as usual) in all the departments. In addition to the branches usually taught, arrangements have been made for a full course of lessons in PHYSICAL CULTURE according to the system of DIO LEWIS, M.D., of the State Female College, in this respect, in advance of any other school at the South, and parents, both at home and abroad, will soon come to see its beneficial effects.

The City Railroad Cars now run out to the College, and render city patronage perfectly practicable. Parents and guardians in the city will find on inquiry that they can enjoy the benefits of this superior school and make a saving—even when car-fare is added—of 25 to 50 per cent. on tuition bills. TEST OATHS, AND THE FRANCHISE LAW OF TENNESSEE.

NO. 3.

In the case of Cummings vs. The State of Missouri, 4 Wallace, 277, the Supreme Court of the United States was called upon to determine whether an act of the Legislature of Missouri was constitutional, which required citizens to swear that they had not been engaged in, or given aid and comfort to, or sympathized with, the Rebellion, before they should be allowed to vote, or to hold any of certain offices, or to preach the Gospel.

Father Cummings was a Catholic Priest, indicted and convicted for having preached without first having taken the required oath.

The argument of his counsel in the Supreme Court was thus re-stated:

"He is punished by deprivation of his profession, for an act not punishable when it was committed, and by a legislative instead of a judicial proceeding. If this is held to be constitutional because it is not done directly, but indirectly, through the tender and refusal of an oath, so contrived as to imply, if declined, a confession of having committed the act, then the prohibition" [of the Constitution against passing any bill of attainder] "may be evaded at pleasure. You cannot imagine an instance of oppression, that the Constitution was designed to prevent, which may not be effected by this means. Suppose the case of a man tried for treason and acquitted by a jury. The Legislature may nevertheless enact that if the person acquitted by a jury does not take an oath that he is innocent, he shall be deprived of political or civil rights or privileges. Suppose that the Legislature of New York were to pass an act disqualifying from preaching the Gospel, or healing the sick, or practising at the bar, all who during the last year were 'connected with any organization inimical' to the administration of the State government. Such an act would of course be adjudged inconsistent with the Federal Constitution. But suppose, instead of passing the law in this form, it should be in the form of requiring an oath from every person desiring to preach the Gospel, or to heal the sick, or practice at the bar, that he had not been connected with such an organization, would that make the case any better? You can punish in two ways: you can charge with the alleged crime, and proving it, punish for it; or you can require the party to purge himself on oath, and if he refuses, punish him by exclusion from a right, privilege or employment."

The counsel insisted:

That it is a punishment, to deprive a man of a right or privilege, political or civil, on account of the commission of an offence, or because he refuses to swear that he has not committed a particular offence.

They insisted that the Missouri Act violated the provision of the Constitution which prohibits the passing of "bills of attainder." Much of their argument was directed against that provision of the act which punished sympathy with the rebels. Leaving that on one side, we adopt their argument to this effect: That the phrase "bill of attainder" was intended to include "every legislative act which inflicts punishment without a judicial trial;" that if the offence is less than felony, the act is usually called a bill of pains and penalties; that it makes no difference that this result of punishment without trial is effected by means of an oath or its tender and refusal; there being, at least, only this difference, that these means are more odious than the other; that the legal result must be the same, for it is a maxim that what cannot be done directly cannot be done by indirection; that the constitutional prohibition was intended to protect every man's right against that kind of legislation which seeks to inflict a penalty without a trial; and that it does not help this kind of legislation, that its taking effect is made to depend on the neglect or refusal to take a prescribed oath; nor would it help it to declare that the omission to take the oath should be deemed a confession of guilt.

One of the counsel referred to the fact that an act prescribing a test-oath was passed in New York soon after the Revolution, and that Alexander Hamilton said, in regard to it:

"A share of the sovereignty of the State which is exercised by the citizens at large in voting at the elections, is one of the most important rights of the subject, and in a republic ought to stand foremost in the estimation of the law. It is that right by which we exist, as a free people, and it will certainly therefore never be admitted that less ceremony ought to be used in divesting any citizen of that right, than in depriving him of his property. Such a doctrine would ill suit the principles of the Revolution which taught the inhabitants of this country to risk their lives and fortunes in asserting their liberty, or, in other words, their right to a share in the Government."

He further said:

"These men inculcate revenge, cruelty, persecution, and perfidy. The spirit of whigism cherishes legal liberty, holds the rights of every individual sacred, condemns or punishes no man without regular trial and conviction of some crime declared by antecedent laws, repudiates equally the punishment of the citizen by arbitrary acts of the Legislature, as by the lawless combinations of unauthorized individuals; while these men are the advocates for expelling a large number of their fellow-citizens, unheard, untried, or, if they cannot effect this they are for disfranchising them in the face of the Constitution, without the judgment of their peers, and contrary to the law of the land. . . Nothing is more common than for a free people, in times of heat and violence to gratify momentary passions by letting into the government principles and precedents, which afterwards prove fatal to themselves. Of this kind is the doctrine of disfranchisement, disqualification and punishments by acts of the Legislature. The dangerous consequences of this power are manifest. If the Legislature can disfranchise any number of citizens at pleasure, by general descriptions, it may soon confine all the voters to a small number of partisans, and establish an aristocracy or an oligarchy. If it may banish at discretion all those whom particular circumstances render obnoxious, without hearing or trial, no man can be safe, nor know when he may be the innocent victim of a prevailing faction. The name of liberty applied to such a government would be a mockery of common sense. THE PEOPLE ARE SURE TO BE LOSERS IN THE EVENT, WHENEVER THEY SUFFER A DEPARTURE FROM THE RULES OF GENERAL AND EQUAL JUSTICE, OR FROM THE TRUE PRINCIPLES OF UNIVERSAL LIBERTY."

And he made a remark which has an especial application to the present state of affairs and the temper of men in this country. He said:

"There is a bigotry in politics, as well as in religion, equally pernicious to both. The zealots of either description are ignorant of the advantage of a spirit of toleration. It is remarkable, though not extraordinary, that those characters throughout the States, who have been principally instrumental in the Revolution, are the most opposed to persecuting measures."

So it is, to-day, not the men who were from the beginning true to the Union, and opposed to secession, and who in camp and field, in the bivouac and the imminent deadly breach maintained their faith, from the day when the first gun shotted by Secession was fired against the old flag that waved over Fort Sumter,—it is not the true soldiers of the Republic, who favor the continued disfranchisement of their late antagonists, whose gallantry made their own glory and renown, but the men who at the beginning encouraged secession, to afterwards play the part of Judas, the Butlers and the Logans, the Stokeses and Hamiltons: it is the escrocs and chevaliers d' industrie of politics, who live by others' undoing, and fatten on the misfortunes of the country; it is the offal and lees of humanity that the currents of war and reconstruction have deposited upon the South.

The counsel who in the Supreme Court prostituted such abilities as they had to the maintenance of an infamous and iniquitous law, insisted that each State had the exclusive right "to determine the qualification of voters and officeholders, and the terms and conditions upon which members of the political body might exercise their various callings and pursuits within its jurisdiction."

They insisted that the Missouri act was not in the nature of a Bill of Attainder or of pains and penalties; but merely regulated the municipal affairs of the State, determining who should be voters and hold office, etc.

One of the counsel said, "It has been decided that bills of pains and penalties, which inflict a milder degree of punishment, are included within 'bills of attainder,' which refer to capital offences. It has been said by an accurate writer (Woodeson) that in cases of bills of attainder, 'the Legislature assumes judicial magistracy, weighing the enormity of the charge, and the proof adduced in support of it, and then deciding the political necessity and moral fitness of the penal judgment."

One would suppose that no more accurate definition of the nature of the acts of Congress and of the Legislatures of Missouri and Tennessee, prescribing test-oaths, could be invented. By them the Legislature surely "assumes judicial magistracy;" "weighs the enormity of the charge," and "decides the political necessity and moral fitness of the penal judgment," which disfranchises him who will not swear that he is not guilty. That it does not also "weigh the proof adduced in support" of the charge, only makes the law more odious and infamous; for when Parliament, each House of which was a Court, and could exercise judicial powers, examined the charge and heard the proof, before convicting and attainting, there was at least the semblance, and perhaps generally the reality of substantial justice.

But, the counsel said, Woodeson declares that bills of attainder, "instead of being general, are levelled against the particular delinquent; instead of being permanent, they expire, as to their chief and positive effects, with the occasion."

Therefore, the counsel said, the provisions of the Missouri act do not fall within the definition. "To be obnoxious as Bills of Attainder, the provisions must operate against some particular delinquents, or A SPECIFIED CLASS OF DELINQUENTS, AND NOT AGAINST THE WHOLE COMMUNITY." When the ass wears the lion's hide, the ears always stick out. Was not the Missouri act aimed against "a specified class of delinquents," those who had been parties to, or had aided, or had sympathized with the rebellion?

"They must not be permanent laws," said Senator Henderson, who was of counsel against the Constitution and the principles of English liberty, "operating as a rule to control the conduct of the whole community, but must expire upon the infliction of punishment on the individual or individuals named."

If an act of a Legislature provides that no person who will not swear that he has never been guilty of profane swearing, or that he has never been drunk, or that he has never bet money on a prohibited game of cards, shall vote or preach or teach, is this any the less a bill of pains and penalties, because no parties are named? Does it "operate as a rule" to control the conduct of the whole community," in the language of the nonsense of Henderson, because it applies to any one and every one who may have done that which he is required to swear that he never has done?

It never was necessary that the persons to be attainted should be named in the bill. As counsel stated, "The attainder passed the eighteenth year of Henry VII, against the Earl of Kildare and others, enacted that 'all such persons which be, or heretofore have been, comforters, abettors, partakers, confederates, or adherents, unto the said late Earl, etc., in his or their false and traitorous acts and purposes, shall in like wise stand and be attainted, adjudged and convicted, of high treason.'"

Mr. Henderson said, "Before these provisions can be called bills of attainder, it must appear that they criminate the defendant, etc., and that they assume to pronounce the punishment for that act. The law itself must assume to convict him. If any means be left by which the defendant can escape the punishment prescribed in the act, the act cannot be a bill of attainder; for a bill of attainder assumes the guilt and punishes the offender, whatever he may do to escape. If the act in question applies as well to the entire community as to him, and operates upon all alike, only prescribing an oath, which may or may not be taken by him and others, as a condition of a future privilege, it is in no sense a bill of attainder."

That is the sort of stuff, the pitiful babble, which is imposed on the world for argument, to sustain a cause which counsel ought to have been ashamed to endeavor to maintain. How does an act operate on a whole community, on all alike, when it affects only the few who cannot take the prescribed oath? If a bill of attainder assumes the guilt and punishes the offender, whatever he may do to escape, is that not exactly what the act prescribing the test-oath does? If one can take the oath, he is no offender. If he cannot, (and no offender can), he is punished, whatever he may do to escape, unless he will perjure himself, and so incur a far heavier penalty. The oath is not prescribed in order that the innocent may take it, but that the guilty may be unable and refuse to take it, and so be convicted by legislative mandate of the imputed crime, and punished by disfranchisement.

But, the counsel said, it is no punishment to disfranchise, or to disqualify a man to practice his profession. For punishment is that only which deprives one of life, liberty or property. "These are natural rights, and to take them away is what we properly call punishment. All other rights are conventional, and may at any time be resumed by the public, in the most summary way, without any regard to due process of law."

We have already seen what Alexander Hamilton, "this great lawyer," whose opinion the Court in concluding quoted at full length, said as to the right of voting. Let us see what is the judicial opinion of English judges as to its nature and value.

WORCESTER, August 19.—The Chinese Embassy arrived here on the p.m. Express train, and were met at the depot by a committee from Boston, the City Council, and a numerous crowd. Gov. Bullock complimented them.

The cattle disease has broken out in Canada.

BOSTON, August 19.—Hon. George H. Pendleton arrived in town late yesterday. At night he was serenaded by the National Democratic Club; he returned thanks in a few remarks, during which he said he was on his way to the State of Maine to take part in the political campaign there. A large assemblage was present.

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 19.—The Chinese Embassy arrived here from Albany at 2 p.m. and proceeded, after a brief stay, to Worcester, where they will spend the night. The Embassy leave Worcester for Boston to-morrow morning.

Six prisoners escaped from jail at Northampton yesterday.

PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, August 19.—It was reported this afternoon that Mr. Cabot, connected with an Iron establishment in this city, had proved a defaulter to the amount of $60,000.

Thad. Stevens' will has been admitted to probate; it is an autograph document and contains the following requests: To the Juvenile Library Association of Caledonia county Academy, at Peachem, of $1000. To the Trustees of the Graveyard in same town, the burial place of his parents, $500. Various sums are given as legacies to his housekeeper and relatives. Of the residue of his estate, amounting to about $50,000, $2,000 is to be expended by his trustees in erecting in Lancaster, conditionally, or in Columbia, suitable buildings for an Orphan Asylum, for indigent orphans, without distinction of race or color.

The will is dated July 30, 1867, and names O. J. Dickey and Edward McPherson, Executors and Trustees.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, August 19.—It has been rumored that the United States Government intends establishing a protectorate over Mexico. This is pronounced in responsible quarters as unfounded. Policy will be the same as heretofore towards that Republic.

The work of removing the Agricultural Department to the new building in South Washington is progressing quite rapidly. The library and laboratory have already been removed, and by next week the Commissioner and most of the officers of the department will be located in their new quarters.

Chief Justice Chase has returned to Washington from Parkersburg.

Gen. Rawlings has sufficiently recovered from his late attack to be out. He was at army headquarters to-day.

The appointment of supervisors is still pending, none having been made. Commissioner Rollins intends sending nominations for the remaining districts very shortly.

Among the visitors at the White House to-day were Gens. Hancock and Rousseau. Both had interviews with the President.

The fire department has been reorganized by fire commissioners, and is now composed of whites altogether, the blacks who were employed on the coming in of the present city administration having been dismissed.

FOREIGN.

AMSTERDAM, August 19.—Representatives of France, England, Holland, Belgium and Prussia are now assembled at Hague, for the purpose of holding a conference looking to the equalization of duties on foreign sugar.

VIENNA, August 19.—Apprehensions are entertained that the recent attempt against Turkish authority in Belgravia will be renewed. Accounts from that quarter represents the country as in an unsettled condition, and though the insurrectionary bands have disappeared or been dispersed, the indications are that secret preparations of a formidable character are being made for a more extensive outbreak. The attention of the Austrian Government has been called to this state of affairs by the unusual quantity of arms ordered from the other side of the Danube, and an order has been issued prohibiting the exportation of arms or ammunition from Austrian territory into the Danubian principalities.

LONDON, August 19.—Soon after the arrival of the American yacht Sapphire off Cowes, her captain issued a challenge to the yachtmen of England for a race. The challenge was immediately accepted by the following yachts: Olive, Cambria, Ounara and Candor. The race, which will be for a sweepstakes of £20, will occur on Friday, the 21st inst. The yachts will start from Cowes and go around the Isle of Wight to the westward and through Saloah to the place of starting. Distance, 75 to 80 miles.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, August 19.—The Democrats of the First Congressional District, in Convention here this morning, nominated Erastus Wells for Congress. He received one more vote than John Hogan. The nomination was subsequently made unanimous.

The latest advices from Kansas are that the Indians have left Solomon valley, and quiet is restored. Most of the settlers who were driven away were returning to their homes.

Adj.-Gen. Weafee reports eight persons buried, three missing and five wounded. This is probably less than half the actual casualties—at least twenty persons having been killed.

Gen. Sully reports that two daughters of Aaron Bell were recovered from the Indians.

About two hundred settlers are left destitute, having been stripped of provisions, clothing, bedding and everything else the Indians could carry away or destroy. Appeals have been made to citizens of Leavenworth and other places to aid the sufferers.

An Omaha dispatch says that the chief Quartermaster of the Department of the Platte, has received orders for the immediate construction of extensive military barracks upon the Government reservation three miles north of the city.

It is reported that considerable difficulty exists at Green River City between the settlers and the agents of the Union Pacific Railroad, the former claiming the right of the land by occupancy.

The Republicans of the Eighth District in this State, in convention at Macon yesterday, nominated John F. Benjamin for re-election to Congress by acclamation.

COUNTY EXPENSES.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

The report of the Grand Jury of the Criminal Court of this city shows a fearful record for the Board of County Commissioners. Let me give only an item or two, for their masters, the thieves who make the laws, know the law as our people had it arranged before the present bogus so-called Legislature began to devise the ways and means of stealing from the people by creating places for favorites, and providing subsistence for thieves. I say, before these things were done, the Magistrates of the county looked after the income and outlay of the county, and now let us see at what cost. Then Magistrates held four terms per annum; at which each Justice was allowed $2 per day. Say there were thirty Justices in the county, and that every Justice would attend each quarter session in the year, and each day of every term, and that the terms would last three days. This would give each Justice $2 per day for twelve days in the year, and with thirty Justices, would make in the year an outlay on the part of the county for salary to public servants to superintend the county affairs, just $720. Now how is it? The Justices are relieved of that duty, and it is assigned to five Commissioners, at the following salaries:

President Lewis	$1,000 00
Associate White	2,500 00
" Hick	2,500 00
" Merriman	2,500 00
" Louis	2,500 00
Making	$13,000 00
Salary of Justices	720 00
Difference	$12,280 00

We pay this last sum just to reward the partizans of Brownlow as a mere bonus to aid in the enslavement of ourselves. That is $13,000 for having a thing badly done which we might have well done for $720. The members of the Commissioners' Court, except poor old Hack, are cribbed up in the city. They have little or no acquaintance in the country, and are liable, even if they were honest, to be constantly imposed upon by dishonest claims from the country. Let me state one instance, just to illustrate. Up in the northeast part of the county, during some of the late heavy rains, a large log floated against a small bridge and lodged. When the water went down, a countryman cut the log in three or four places, so that it floated off. The work was really worth about three dollars. He presented his bill to Biewis' Court and got fifty dollars. Had there been a member of the Court from that vicinity, as there would have been under the old system, the whole truth would have been known and the man paid for his labor just what it was worth. I state this fact to show the liability of the people to be fleeced, even at the hands of an honest Court. C.

Southern Settlers in Honduras.

A correspondent of the New Orleans Crescent writes from Belize, British Honduras, August 31:

"Quite a number of Americans have settled in this colony. Their settlements are in different localities—several along this (Belize) river, one at Lake Manatee, one at Mullins river, one at Victoria, one at Middle river and one at Toledo—and most of the people are in good health and cheered by prospects of good crops. Of course there are a few exceptions to this.

"All having been ignorant of the country when they made selections, different degrees of success or failure must be expected in this as in all other countries, as well as of health.

"The culture of sugar is now eliciting more general and careful attention than hitherto, when it was only pursued by the untutored Yucatanese with the most primitive and inefficient appliances, who however succeeded much better, in proportion, than many empirics who attempted it upon a grander scale.

"The repeated failure of those induced recourse to that skill which by Herculean labor and puzzling enterprise and knowledge extorted from the uncongenial climate and soil of Louisiana a crop of half a million of hogsheads of sugar (or as they are termed here, tierces), per annum, and led to the engagement of several of her former planters as managers.

"The most prominent example of their success as yet is at Regalia Estate, owned by Antonio Mathe, Esq., which is under the management of Col. S. McCutcheon, who commenced boiling in May, and in about fifty-six working days made near half a million pounds of concrete sugar, and will continue rolling for a month or six weeks yet.

"Adjacent to Regalia are three other sugar plantations with splendid crops of cane in a luxuriant growth, and machinery to take them off. On one of them are twelve thousand coffee trees of the second year's growth, which are well filled with the fruit or bean, and about fourteen thousand plantain trees, which shade the coffee. These estates would be a good investment for practical sugar planters who have experience and capital.

"Higher up on the Sittee river, and adjacent to Regalia, is the new estate of J. A. de Braam, Esq., who has since last summer made a clearing of about three hundred acres, erected a saw mill, with shingle machine attached, and he saws the mahogany, jemery and pine timber, of which he has an abundance, which make good lumber, and thereof is erecting a substantial and permanent house for his employees and laborers. It is his intention to build a light railroad all over the estate and through the fields, and by the use of his locomotive, avoid the necessity for mules and oxen in the corn fields. It is his intention to have a very large plantation.

"Beyond Mr. de Braam's, his cousin, Mr. Leclerc, from Holland, who, I understand, was formerly a sugar planter in the island of Java, is opening a plantation, and has about one hundred acres of land cleared, and has just commenced erecting quarters for his laborers.

"These estates give evidence of what may be done even in a new and wilderness country. Here are at least one thousand acres of cleared land, a large portion of which is covered with cane, plantains and coffee, where three years since stood the gloomy primeval forest. Under all the disadvantages with which it commenced Regalia will yield this year near eight hundred thousand pounds of sugar, which bids fair to be more than trebled next year."

CITY MATTERS.

MR. H. M. SULLIVAN, of Panola county, is authorized to act as agent for the APPEAL in Mississippi—receive subscriptions and advertisements and receipt for the same.
JOHN AINSLIE,
Business Manager.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE of engravings this morning at 10 o'clock, No. 237 Second street.

DO NOT fail to attend the large sale of dry goods at auction, by Strauss & Blum, 213 Main street, this morning at ten o'clock.

RAIN.—We have had plenty water lately—rather too much. We are told by planters near the city that the weather is ruinous on the cotton crop.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The Board met yesterday morning and passed several appropriations. Several road superintendents were also appointed. Nothing else of interest was done.

LYING.—One of the regular correspondents of the evening Radical paper is at his trade again—denying and lying out of some stealing scrape. He seems to have a peculiar faculty for getting into scrapes and lying himself out.

REV. J. W. ROGERS' merry answer to "The Magpie," whose effusion appeared in last Sunday's APPEAL, at his historic and poetic recitation this evening in the First Baptist Church, corner of Second and Adams.

NEW MUSIC.—F. Katzenbach advertises a full assortment of new and beautiful music, embracing the whole range of classical, operatic and ballad songs, and instrumental music. Mr. Katzenbach's establishment is on Main, west side, three doors south of Monroe.

THE first bale of new cotton on the market, which was received by Mhoon & Co., was forwarded to Boston, Mass., yesterday, over the "Star" Union Fast Freight Line, and as is customary in such cases, goes through free of charge.

THANKS to Henry B. Culp, at R. S. Taylor & Co.'s, 278 Front street, general agent for the Saint Clair Nurseries, at Summerfield, Ill., for a box of very fine grapes, of which several young ladies have expressed their unqualified approval.

THERE will be a meeting of the Park Avenue Democratic Club, at the School-house, on Friday night, the 21st inst. Col. A. H. Douglas and Judge Marland L. Perkins, have been invited to address the meeting. Every member is expected to be present, and all friendly to the cause are respectfully invited to attend.

PLAYING THE LOCKE GAME.—The youth who sells papers at the news stand in the Avalanche building was not arrested yesterday for playing the Locke game, as was stated. He is still at his stand, and has got all the periodicals, weeklies, dailies, occasionals and semi-occasional papers that are published. Call and see him.

SOMETHING "BULLY."—Maj. Hanly yesterday called us into his establishment—the Hanly House, on Front, between Court and Madison streets—and treated us to a drink of brandy that certainly held the age on anything that we have tasted in a long time. The Major is well fixed up to meet his friends, and hopes to see them all frequently.

FETTER DREIZEGACKER.—We are pleased to learn that the popular barkeeper, Mr. Louis Mohr, has taken charge of the Monroe Exchange, for the benefit of the widow of the late proprietor, the amiable and much esteemed Fetter Dreizegacker. The business will go on as formerly, and Mr. Mohr will manage things with the urbanity and skill that he is famed for.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.—In the matter of J. V. Powell and Linkhauer & Co., bankrupts, W. Y. Cirode, Assignee of the said estate, will sell to-day, at 10 o'clock a.m., at the Auction rooms of A. S. Levy & Co., Jefferson Block, Second street, a large and fine assortment of Force Pumps, Gas Fixtures and Fittings, Leather, custom made Boots and Shoes, etc.; also a fine large Marble Washstand Slab, suitable for barbers and others.

BOLD ROBBERY.—The grocery store of James Monaghan was entered yesterday morning, between two and three o'clock, by three negro burglars. Mr. Monaghan, who sleeps in the store, heard them making their entrance, but did not make any resistance, although armed with a loaded double barreled shot gun. He had a tussle with one of the party after they entered, and recognized all three of them. As soon as they found that they were discovered, they retired. Mr. Monaghan refuses to prosecute the guilty parties, because he is "afraid of his life if he does."

SERENADE.—We are indebted to the members of the colored Democratic Club band for a compliment of the above character last night. One of the company complimented our senior very highly on being the friend of the colored man, and in doing so he was perfectly right, for every word spoken by him to them, or written for them, is done in the spirit of true friendship, without any equivocation whatever, in the absence of Gen. Pike we thank them for the compliment paid.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT.—Two darkies, one of the Democratic and the other of the Radical persuasion, got to talking politics, yesterday afternoon, at the Williams House, on Madison street. The lie was passed quite freely, and a wager of battle thrown down by both parties several times. At last the Rad, laying down a bundle that he carried, went out into the middle of the street, and dared the Democrat to mortal combat, tooth and toenail, fist and skull. The cartel was accepted and the pair piled in. About the time that wool pulling grew fast and furious, a policeman came along and took them out of the wet, and carried them to the lower station, where Rad was fined $10 and the Democrat turned loose.

THE WAR OF THE ROSES.

Beaumont, Burditt & Co. vs. Judge Waldran.

The Police Commissioners Ask for an Injunction to Stop Prosecution in the Municipal Court.

Scalawag vs. Carpet-Bag.

The recent excitement in legal circles caused by the bill of injunction filed by the Police Commissioners for the purpose of stopping the prosecutions against them in the Municipal Court, bids fair to become one of the great sensations of the State of Tennessee. In order to fully understand the cause and the result of this undue exhibition of interest in the public welfare on the part of the Police Commissioners, we will have to look back to the action of the Grand Jury of the Municipal Court during the last term. Our readers will recollect that the Grand Jury of that term of Court, from the evidence brought before them, found a large number of bills of indictment against the Police Commissioners, which we present for future reference:

Thirteen bills of indictment against A. P. Burditt, Police Commissioner, for failure to make report as required by law.

Thirteen bills of indictment against A. P. Burditt for receiving salary as an officer before making report as required by law.

Thirteen bills of indictment against Channing Richards, Police Commissioner, for failure to make report as required by law.

Thirteen bills of indictment against Channing Richards, Police Commissioner, for receiving salary as an officer before making report as required by law.

Twelve bills of indictment against Sergeant Brown, of the police force, for failing to make report, as required by law.

Twelve indictments against P. S. Simons, Captain of Metropolitan Police force, for failing to make report, as required by law.

Twelve indictments against Captain Simons for receiving salary as an officer before making report, as required by law.

Thirteen indictments against S. B. Beaumont, Police Commissioner, for failure to make report, as required by law.

Thirteen indictments against S. B. Beaumont for receiving salary as an officer before making report, as required by law.

The above indictments, as will be seen, are for failure to comply with the provisions of the law as laid down in the act organizing the police force in Memphis. The plea of ignorance on the part of the astute Commissioners might be put in with a good grace, but when these gentlemen profess to be the concentrated wisdom of the city, and when they dispense law and justice every day in their so-called court of justice, the above plea will not be recognized by sensible men. But there is another indictment against Mr. Beaumont and his man Friday (Simons) that is flavored with something more than ignorance of the law, for it savors of that ugly thing, called corruption in office. An indictment, which charges that one, Dale, the keeper of a keno room on Madison street, entered into an agreement with S. B. Beaumont and his Captain Simons, by which it was agreed upon and understood between the parties, that Dale should be permitted to run his keno bank uninterrupted by the police force for the consideration of one hundred dollars in cash down, and the sum of one hundred dollars per week for an unlimited time thereafter, and that in pursuance of this charming contract, the said Dale paid the one hundred dollars in cash, and the further sum of one hundred dollars per week, for eight weeks thereafter, to Capt. Simons, who, on this occasion, acted as a kind of go-between for his friend and Commander Beaumont.

There is still another indictment, which charges that Mr. Beaumont had been present in said keno room when the gaming was going on without arresting the gamblers, as was his duty as a conservator of the peace; and by way of a sad commentary upon the above violations of law, there appears upon the records of the Municipal Court several indictments against our friend Capt. Simons, for engaging in the delightful game called keno. We present above a brief but comprehensive account of these unimportant things called criminal indictments. It would be well to remember that prior to the finding of the Grand Jury, a war of races had been inaugurated in the Radical ranks. The spoils of office were the bones of contention, which contention gave birth to two races of animals—the home scalawags and the foreign carpet-baggers—both striving for office by means of negro votes. Hence the war of races, resulting in indictments and injunction bills. The Police Commissioners, not wishing to go to trial on these unfortunate indictments, filed, on behalf of themselves and the State, an injunction bill in the Chancery Court of Memphis, charging Judge Waldran with almost every crime known to the common or statute law of the land, alleging that at the time of his appointment to office by Gov. Brownlow he (Waldran) was not eligible to the same, because he had not been, for three years prior to the time of his appointment, a citizen of the State of Tennessee as required by the statute. The bill winds up by praying that Waldran be removed from office, enjoined from acting in the capacity of Judge, and especially from acting as Judge during the trial of the Police Commissioners in the Municipal Court, upon the indictments found. The injunction was refused by the Chancellor, and an order made for the Clerk and Master to take proof, as to eligibility and corruption of Judge Waldran. The proof was taken and the matter argued before the Chancellor last Tuesday.

The proof discloses some strange things in connection with Judicial officers, such as the Judge borrowing money from a defendant sentenced under indictment, and writing a letter to him, saying: "The money will be returned in time for you to pay your fine," etc. It may be said that a Judge ought not to borrow money from a man whom he had sentenced to pay a fine; nevertheless it was done, and we have the assurance of the Marshal of the Municipal Court, before whom the settlement was finally made, that the borrowing was a simple business transaction having nothing to do with the fine under the indictments. To say the least of it, it was in bad taste; but we are living in new times, that have introduced new and strange customs—this may be one of them.

It is charged in the bill of injunction that Judge Waldran fixed up the Grand Jury for the purpose of finding these bills of indictment; but Mr. Hudson, the Prosecuting Attorney of the Municipal Court, informs us that he made out the list of jurors with the names of the grand jurors marked thereon. This list of names was used by Judge Waldran, with the exception of a few men who did not answer to their names, their places being supplied from the by-standers, consequently the Grand Jury must from this fact (and the better one, that they were respectable citizens of Memphis) stand as unimpeached. In the proof taken before the Clerk and Master of the Chancery Court, there is in evidence the fact that Judge Waldran released, on straw bail, or light bail, men who, at the present time, ought to be in jail. But this has been done before in Memphis, and the plea offered that if men appear and swear that they are worth a certain sum, a court cannot well refuse to accept the same, leaving the bondsmen liable for perjury. Judge Waldran may be a very incompetent man to hold the office of Judge of the Municipal Court, but we fail to see in the proof introduced any corruption in office. The Judge may from motives of hate desire the prosecution of the Police Commissioners, and may on this account have gone further in aiding such prosecution than ought to be done by a Court, but whatever may have been his motives, disclosed or hidden as they may be, the good of the public arising from it is obvious; the prosecution and punishment of conservators of the peace who violate law; the detection and punishment of Police Commissioners who fail to be governed by law and the disclosure of official corruption by Memphis officials.

All this the public is interested in, and whether Col. Beaumont proves corruption on Waldran or Waldran on Beaumont, we are alike interested, and we desire to see it exposed. The present condition of this engagement gives neither party the advantage. Beaumont is being tried in the Municipal Court, but offers fictitious pleas in abatement to gain time, awaiting with anxiety the expected injunction. We fancy we hear him exclaiming, like Wellington at the battle of Waterloo, "Would that Blucher or night would come." As for us, we wish for other days, when all these mountebanks may be hurled from power, and honorable men placed in positions of trust and profit, now disgraced by scalawags and carpet-baggers.

THE WOLFF CASE.

'Squire Kiernan's Court was again occupied all day yesterday on the preliminary examination of Moritz Wolff, charged with arson—B. Newt Hart, Esq., for the State, and Messrs. Bullock, Edgington & Halsey for defense.

EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES.

The last witness examined on Tuesday was Mr. Walter Joyce. Yesterday morning he was recalled and cross-examined by Newt Hart, Esq., but no important points elicited.

Helen Grace was the next witness called—I room directly over the office of M. Wolff; was at home on the night of 13th of August; saw a light and heard some one walking in Wolff's liquor store until I went to bed, which was about half-past one o'clock; was woke up by hearing a lady, who occupies a room under mine, hallooing "fire;" awoke and found my room full of smoke; I woke Aunt Rhody, and then saw two policemen and told them that there was a fire in the store; there was a man apparently asleep on the gallery; I tried to wake him, telling him there was a fire, but he did not seem to care; the policemen got axes and broke in the door.

Cross-examined by Newt Hart—Am quite sure the door was locked; they afterward broke down a side door; was at the window Wednesday night and saw Adolph Frey and Aunt Rhody on the gallery; Adolph Frey said, "there is a light in Mr. Wolff's store."

Adolph Frey recalled and cross-examined by B. Newt Hart, Esq.—This (that the former witness detailed) happened on Wednesday night; I saw Wolff in his store and said, "Wolff is in his store;" he blew out the light as soon as I spoke his name; we spoke loud; he then walked out of his office by the front door and walked off; I don't know where he went.

Joe Barbiere was then sworn:

My name is Joe Barbiere; live at 178 front street, over Mr. M. Wolff's store; was at home last Thursday night, August 13th; my mother woke me between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning and said there was a fire somewhere; came down stairs and saw two policemen; don't know their names; they asked for an ax and I got them one; one of them took it, went to the north door and knocked the lower panel out; at their request I got in through the opening; found door barred with wooden bar, which I took down, and drew the bolt that comes from the bottom; had to chop out a piece to get the top bolt loose; There was no lock on door; could not see anything inside of the store except smoke; I brought a hand pail full of water and gave it to policeman; I could not see any blaze at first; saw the edges of a whisky barrel burn; saw no liquor burning, but would have seen it if there had been any.

Patrick Welsh was recalled, and cross-examined by B. Newt Hart, Esq.—I felt all the barrels; they were all empty; Did not see any tobacco boxes; saw a few cigars in one box; there was something there like champagne cider—but no champagne; I went there in the morning to stop the lynching; there were a crowd of Italians, women and children there; Joyce did not say "lynch him;" went there at roll call, which is at five o'clock; Wolff came in between six and seven o'clock; I arrested him and took him to the station house; the Italians and Joyce told me to arrest him; did not want to lynch him; I tried all the barrels in rotation; they were all empty but one; I think Wolff fired the store.

Dominick Marianni called—My name is Dominick Marianni; I keep a store at 174 Front street, next house to Mr. Wolff, and go up the same stairs; Mr. Wolff turns to right, and I to left; was on the corner of Poplar and Main streets until eleven o'clock p.m., August 13th, sitting in a chair; I saw Mr. Wolff and his clerk pass out of his store about half-past ten and go down the street; about an hour afterwards I saw Wolff's clerk come back alone.

Cross-examined—Have known Mr. Wolff about a year, and cannot be mistaken as to having seen him and his clerk as I stated; bought a gallon of whisky from him (Wolff) occasionally; not very good whisky.

Antonio Marianni was recalled and cross-examined by B. Newt Hart, but nothing of importance was elicited.

The court then adjourned, and the case was continued until this morning at nine o'clock.

The attorneys for the defense, Messrs. Bullock, Edgington & Halsey, are keenly alive to the interests of their client, and Mr. Newt Hart is prosecuting the case with all the vim of his impulsive, ardent temperament. Altogether the case is one of extraordinary interest.

MEMPHIS AND CHARLESTON RAILROAD.—The annual meeting of the stockholders in this corporation takes place in this city on the 25th inst. The attention of all interested is called to the fact, and to the notice in another column of Geo. Robertson, Esq., Secretary and Treasurer. Stockholders and their families will be passed free over the road on showing the conductor their certificates of stock, from one day before until one day after the meeting. au20 tf

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

One Man Killed, Another Hurt.

The incoming train on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad ran over two negroes three miles beyond Collierville last evening, killing one named Frank and breaking the arm of Albert Sherrod. They were both under the influence of liquor, and sat down, the one in the center of the track and the other just outside, on the end of a tie. Frank was torn all to pieces, and Albert only suffered as before stated. Every effort was made to stop the train but without avail.

THE COURTS.

MUNICIPAL COURT—Geo. W. Waldran, Judge.—Yesterday in the case of the State vs. Beaumont, indictment for failing to make report as required by law, the defendant filed an affidavit that one of the witnesses summoned by him was sick; that he was a material witness, and that he could not go to trial safely without the witness' testimony. Consequently the case was continued over to Friday next. In the case of the State vs. Burditt, the defendant filed a plea in abatement, based upon the alleged illegal empanneling of the Grand Jury that found the bills of indictment. The prosecuting attorney filed a demurrer to the plea. The argument on plea and demurrer will be heard this morning. The fight by the defendants in these cases is well understood to be for time, they expecting daily a favorable decision by Chancellor Smith in the case of Burditt vs. Waldran, on the motion for injunction and removal from office. Should Chancellor Smith render a decision adverse to the plaintiffs, Burditt et al., the only remedy left them would be the impeachment of Judge Waldran. At the present moment Judge Waldran seems to have the inside track.

The cases set for trial to-day are:

1790, 1791 The State vs Burditt.
267 The State vs Swears.
472, 476 The State vs Madison & Swears.
1778 The State vs E. Jones.
1780 The State vs Owen McPartland.

CRIMINAL COURT—Wm. Hunter, Judge.—In the case of the State vs. D. J. Renfrow, on charge of murder, application for habeas corpus, the defendant was admitted to bail in the sum of $3000. In the case of the State vs. Samuel Myer, indictment for perjury, on motion to quash the indictment, the decision was reserved. To-day the habeas corpus docket will be called.

ICKA SPRINGS.—The grand mass meeting, barbecue and ball which have been so often adverted to in our columns during the past few days, will take place to-morrow and the day after. Everybody is invited, more especially the Democratic clubs of Shelby county. There is also to be, as we have already announced, a grand barbecue and mass meeting at LaGrange to-day. The Memphis and Charleston Railroad, with its accustomed liberality, has determined to run a special train on this occasion, leaving the city at half-past six o'clock a.m., and returning on time. Only half fare will be charged for tickets for the round trip. Tickets are for sale at the office, No. 278 Main street, corner of South Court.

POLITICAL—GRAND RALLY.—The regular weekly meeting of the Young Men's Independent Seymour Club will be held on Thursday evening, August 20, at their new headquarters, Stillman Hall. Col. W. W. Vaughn, candidate for Elector, Hon. John W. Leftwich, Capt. Lee and others, have been invited, and will address the meeting. The public, especially the ladies, are respectfully invited to attend. It is also hoped that other Democratic Clubs in the city will be well represented. By order of the President.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, August 19, 1868.

The heavy rain which fell last night and this morning, together with those which have fallen during the last three weeks, has materially injured the cotton prospect. The stalk, which now should be turning brown and throwing out open bolls, is of a deep green color, and is growing perceptibly every day until it has become a common thing to hear of it eight or ten feet high. All the advantages gained by the heat of June and July have been lost by the recent rains, and it is now probable that this will be the most backward season we have had for many years.

This is generally the dullest day in the week, owing to the absence of all packets on Wednesday. Within a short time, however, we will have a New Orleans boat leaving on this day, if not two of them. The new bale of cotton consigned to Mhoon & Co., from Washington county, Miss., was forwarded by them to New York yesterday, over the Star Union line, of which Capt. Jas. T. Bourne is agent. We have just received the following letter from Mr. Jas. H. Bate, of the firm of Mhoon & Co.:

MEMPHIS, TENN., August 19, 1868.
Gen. Albert Pike:

In the APPEAL of the 18th, under article, "The First Bale," the article alleges that it was a small bale, poorly ginned, poorly baled, and was New Orleans cotton. These were not the facts. Its weight was 420 pounds, classed Low Middling, was well put up, considering the wet weather; and the grower of this bale lives on the adjoining place to the one sending the first bale last season; has sent all of his cotton to this market since the surrender, and purchased nearly all of his supplies from Memphis merchants for the past three years. If the APPEAL desires to drive Maj. Tyree from this market, and wishes to say to planters of Washington and adjacent counties that Memphis does not wish their trade, that they belong to New Orleans, she is certainly proceeding in the true way to do this effectually. For the sake of justice and the interest of Memphis, I ask that Gen. Pike have the facts as above stated appear in his paper, and the inconsiderate statements in the article of the 18th corrected so far as it is now possible to do so. I called to see Gen. Pike in person, so that I might state these facts and give him any proof necessary, but not finding him, I have taken the liberty of addressing him this note. Respectfully,
JAMES H. BATE.

We made no reference whatever in the article of the 18th as to the cotton being "poorly ginned and poorly baled," neither do we wish to drive away the trade of Maj. Tyree, or any other planter of Washington county, from Memphis, as Mr. Bate is well aware. We simply stated what facts we could gather in reference to the "first bale," without seeing the consignee, whose office was closed upon the five or six occasions which we endeavored to get into on Monday.

Gold opened in New York at 145¼ today. We could learn of no sales here. A holder of $12,000 or $13,000 proposes to sell an interest in bonds, but we do not know that a bid was made. Dealers buy at 142@143; selling at 144@145.

The New York stock exchange quotations at noon to-day were as follows: Five-twenties, coupons of '81, 13½; do '62, 13; do '64, 8½; do '65, 10½; do new issue, 7½; do '67, 7½; 10-40s, coupons, 8½. Old Tennessee bonds, 64; New Tennessee bonds, 63½.

There was very little doing in money matters to-day. Stocks and bonds are nominal. Buyers are numerous enough for city at 49c, but the only lot offered was held at 50c. In a New York brokers' circular of the 6th inst. we find the following quotations, which our citizens would do well to ponder over: Memphis city bonds, 54@56; Augusta city bonds, 67@70s; Savannah city bonds, 80@85c; Macon city bonds, 70@75c; Atlanta city bonds, 80@82s; Columbus city bonds, 70@75c. While on the subject of city bonds we will congratulate our tax payers upon the recovery of ten of the fourteen bonds which have been missing so long, and which one of our largest property holders has at last succeeded in finding. The other four will, no doubt, be "recovered" at an early date. The Gayoso House has, we learn, been given as security for the debt which is to be paid in sixty days. Thus a little transaction that would have been a crime and have sent a poor man to the penitentiary, is covered up.

A statement of facts concerning the Texas cattle disease, made by J. R. Dodge, Statistician of the Department of Agriculture, as the result of extended investigation, makes the following points:

1. That the disease is communicated by cattle from Texas, Florida and other portions of the Gulf coast.

2. That such disease is itself unknown in Texas or the Gulf coast.

3. That the cattle communicating it are not only apparently healthy, but are generally improving in condition.

4. That while local herds receiving the infection nearly all die, they never communicate the disease to others.

5. That either a considerable increase in elevation or a distance of two or three degrees of latitude from the starting point is necessary to develop the virus into activity and virulency, and a further progress of two degrees of latitude and a few weeks in time is sufficient to eliminate the poison from the system.

6. That Texas cattle removed to other miasmatic sections, as the Mississippi bottoms up to the thirty-sixth parallel, communicate no infection to local herds.

7. Medication has thus far been of no avail.

It concludes that the disease cannot become general, and that it cannot exist only within the movements of Texas cattle, which could be regulated or suppressed, and that it does not result from travel, but from climatic disease.

Cotton was steady at the opening to-day in Liverpool; Uplands, 10¾d; Orleans, 11¼d. At the close the market was easier, and declined ⅛d; Uplands, 10½d; Orleans, 10¾d. Sales 10,000 bales. The New York market was quiet but steady at the opening, and closed in all respects the same. We did not hear of a sale in this market.

COTTON GINS.

COTTON GINS! COTTON GINS

E. CARVER CO.'S

Improved Gins!

THE great number of these celebrated Gin Stands in use throughout this whole country, are actual working witnesses of their acknowledged superiority. No neighborhood is without some of these splendid machines, and we make reference to each and every planter now using them as to their superior advantages over all others.

Those needing Gins will consult their best interests when they bear in mind that the "E. CARVER CO.'S IMPROVED GINS" can be had with any desired number of Saws, either right or left hand motion, by calling on or sending their orders to

ALLISON BROTHERS,

Sole Agents, 270 Front St., Memphis.

Commission Merchants desiring to make purchases of Gin Stands for their customers, will find it to their advantage to call upon us. jy14 2m ALLISON BROTHERS.

Pratt's Southern Made Cotton Gin

THIS GIN is regarded by planters who have used it, as the best for sample, picking the seed clean and light draught. Planters cultivating bottom lands are requested to examine the Eureka Gin at Farrington & Howell's, 268 Front street. It will pay for itself in ginning fifty bales. A. N. Gunnison, manufacturer of the Steel Comb Gin before the war but now a planter, gives the following certificate:

"MEMPHIS, TENN., January 31, 1868.

"I take pleasure in recommending to planters cultivating Cotton on bottom lands of the Mississippi, Arkansas, White and St. Francis rivers, the Eureka Gin, made by Daniel Pratt, of Alabama. This Gin separates the hulls, bolls, etc., from the Seed Cotton, makes a good sample, and is superior to any other Gin for bottom lands. I have used one myself on a farm in Washington county, Miss., and it operates well and gives entire satisfaction in every respect. A. N. GUNNISON."

Orders for Gins, from 40 to 80 Saws and Gum Belting, at Factory Prices, addressed to the care of FARRINGTON & HOWELL, 268 Front street, Memphis, promptly filled. Presses and Gearing put up, and Gins repaired by a skillful Gin wright. G. W. TRUHEART, jy28 81aw12m&w Agent for Daniel Pratt.

EAGLE COTTON GINS.

WE are the Sole Agents for the sale of these unrivalled Gin Stands. For beauty of STAPLE, LIGHTNESS OF DRAFT, AND QUANTITY OF LINT COTTON turned out per day, they are unsurpassed. Reference can be safely made to every planter who has given them a fair trial. Where mule power is used, they make a saving of from one-quarter to one-third the draft over any other Gin. We are also agents for STRAUB'S GRIST MILLS, and WHEELER, CLEMSON & CO.'S CIRCULAR SAWS.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF LEVEE COMMISSIONERS FOR THE COUNTIES OF BOLIVAR, WASHINGTON AND ISAAQUENA, GREENVILLE, MISS., August 5, 1868.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received until Saturday, the 29th day of August, for the construction of the following Levees.

IN BOLIVAR COUNTY.

Kirk's Levee, about 40,000 cubic yards.
Pride's Point Levee, about 40,000 cubic yards.
From Vicks to Vermillion, about 180,000 cubic yards.
Lake Bolivar Levee, 180,000 cubic yards.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.

Levee from Tarpley's to Mrs. Campbell's, about 250,000 cubic yards
Greenville Levee, about 20,000 cubic yards.
Kershaw's Levee, about 20,000 cubic yards.

ISAAQUENA COUNTY.

Camack's Levee, about 150,000 cubic yards.
Christmas Levee, about 150,000 cubic yards.

Separate proposals may be made for each of these Levees, or for the whole number in the district. Propositions must state the price per cubic yard for which the work will be constructed.

For the information of capitalists, I would state that the whole amount of indebtedness of the Board is about $138,000, and that the tax on the present cotton crop will more than discharge every form of obligation.

Any information in regard to the Levees, or matters pertaining to their construction, can be obtained by application at the office.

—FOR THE—

CURE OF EVERY FORM

—OF—

HEMORRHOIDS OR PILES

WHETHER OF LONG STANDING OR RECENT origin, internal or external, whether attended with Prolapsus, Hemorrhage or obstruction, and all by

External Application,

No internal adjuvants being required in any case, only to regulate the bowels, if constipated, or in Diarrhea and Dysentery.

The PILES, while astonishingly prevalent in their various forms amongst all classes of both sexes, are, at the same time, the most distressing, frequently dangerous, and hitherto most difficult of cure.

Persons who suffer any length of time with the Piles generally try everything they can learn of pertaining to cure of the disease, yet realize no permanent advantage therefrom. They have been told professionally, perhaps, there was "no permanent cure for Piles," and consequently have despaired of any future cessation from pain and suffering.

To all such a SPECIFIC is offered for their relief. The

BUCKEYE SALVE

Is a strictly scientific combination of well known remedial agents, and the proprietors have no hesitation in saying the BUCKEYE SALVE is the

ONLY INFALLIBLE SPECIFIC

Ever discovered for that disease, and which cures by outward application only, and that in time to come, as in the past, it will stand the test of trial without a failure, to perform all the proprietors claim for it, if the directions are attended to.

A large number of gentlemen throughout the country of high character and influence have voluntarily attested to its efficacy in their own cases, and from hearsay, and will have certificates may be seen by reference to the publications.

The proprietors will forward to any address one bottle, postpaid, on receipt of the retail price, $1 00 per bottle.

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpractised and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years.

DR. JAMES,

FORMERLY OF JAMES' LOCK HOSPITAL, Custom House street, New Orleans, (established 1850), for the last seven years located in Chicago, and celebrated throughout the country in the successful treatment of PRIVATE DISEASES, can be confidentially consulted at his office and parlors, 91 and 93 Randolph street, corner of Dearborn street, or by letter Postoffice Drawer 5863.

Dr. JAMES treats CHRONIC MERCURIAL SYPHILITIC BLOOD and SKIN DISEASES, and all DISORDERS of a CONTAGIOUS NERVEAL CHARACTER—which he cures without the use of mercury, iodide potassil, arsenic or any poison, but with his NEUTRALIZER, a positive cure for all humors and blood poisons.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS, such as SEMINAL WEAKNESS, NOCTURNAL and DIURNAL EMISSIONS, brought on by abuse of the organs, early indiscretions, excesses, or entailed hereditarily, causing loss of memory, confusion, depression, dimness of vision and oftentimes insanity, with a deplorable train of other symptoms, treated and radically cured by an infallible method, saving time and expense. All diseases peculiar to the sexual organs, of a private character, radically and permanently cured.

Old diseases of the most horrible class, where the blood has become poisoned, producing blotches on the face, small watery blisters, pains in the head and bones, ulcerated throat and nose, sores on the limbs and body, scrofula, together with an endless number of sufferings—effectually and permanently cured.

DR. JAMES is recommended by the press of the country, by professors of medical colleges, and by the medical profession generally. Those afflicted should apply to him, and be cured at all hazards.

THE MONITOR, by Dr. James, a treatise upon diseases peculiar to the sexual organs of either sex, causes effects and their remedies, compiled from an experience of twenty years' practice in the exclusive treatment of these diseases, sent to any address, securely wrapped. Price one dollar. Pamphlet on SPERMATORRHŒA, or one on SYPHILIS, sent in sealed envelope upon receipt of postage—two red stamps. Address Dr. JAMES, Postoffice drawer 5863, Chicago, Illinois. ap17 tf
